

The Whitney Review 1961-1962

BUDD HOPKINS. Bordeaux. 1961. Oil. 74 x 98.

Acquired by Joseph H. Hirshhorn: "I find Budd Hopkins a talented young painter who has developed a personal style and image grounded on Abstract Expressionism. His work has great vitality and is distinguished by its spacious and elegant flights of color and forms. His discipline and restraint enable him to control all the dynamic elements in his paintings and he seems to reflect a tendency among some of the younger painters towards greater control and deliberation."

